Board Gets Marion Ave. School Site

Obtains Hartman Property

Land, House To Cost $87,500

Negotiations are being completed for purchase of the E. R. Hartman property at Marion avenue and Carpenter road as the site for a new Brinkerhoff-Carpenter school, Supt. of Schools W. L. Miller said today.

The deal is expected to be approved Monday night by the board of education, Miller said. The property, at the southeast corner of the Marion - Carpenter intersection, will cost the board $87,500, the superintendent said. The tract contains a large house and two and a half acres of land.

The purchase is being made from Mrs. E. R. Hartman, who was left the property by her husband at his death last year.

The Hartman residence at 121 Marion avenue Miller said, will be used as board of education administrative head quarters. The offices will be moved from John Simpson junior high school soon after possession is obtained Aug. 1 Miller said the change would make space available for three more rooms at the junior high school.

The Hartman house is a two- and one-half story structure and has 10 rooms.

CENTRALLY LOCATED

Miller said the site was chosen because of its central location. He said the site was one of several recommended by Ohio State university specialists who made a survey here of school building needs.

The site is equally distant from a new building to be erected at Euclid and Highland avenues, and Prospect and Woodland schools, the superintendent said.

Miller said several other sites were considered. One of these would have necessitated tearing down between 15 and 18 houses and forcing between 20 and 24 families to move.

Miller said the present Brinkerhoff building site also was considered, but that would have required tearing down the present structure and buying additional adjoining land.

The new Brinkerhoff-Carpenter building will have 12 rooms and an auditorium-gymnasium. No architect has been hired.

Tax Boost Postponed

WASHINGTON—(INS)—Treasury Secretary Snyder told Congress today that a tax increase will be necessary to stay within President Truman's 41.9 billion dollar budget.

★

WASHINGTON — (INS) — President Truman's request for a four billion dollar tax increase was placed on a "standby" basis in Congress today with no action expected for two or three months.

It will then determine how much additional revenue, if any, is needed to keep the government out of the red during the 1950 fiscal year beginning July 1.

The decision will be based on the revenue taken in by March 15, deadline for income tax returns, and by the size of the appropriations voted by Congress.

Benner Bound To Grand Jury

FREMONT —(AP)— Arthur F. Benner, 21, of Detroit, was bound over to the county grand jury today on charges of first degree murder in the death last Nov. 3 of Patrolman George Biggs.

Benner, arrested in Sarasota, Fla., two weeks ago on a forgery charge, was blamed for Biggs' death when the rookie patrolman tried to stop Benner and a friend, William Shacklett of Detroit, as they were stealing a car.

Biggs had leaped on the running board, and Benner allegedly swerved the car into a truck, crushing the policeman.

One-Driver Strike Ends In Success

CINCINNATI—(AP)—The Peal Manufacturing company plant's one-man strike ended yesterday.

The plant superintendent said the three-day strike of Joseph Stumpo, the firm's one and only truck driver, had tied up the plant as tight as a drum." A picket line had cut off deliveries to and pickups from the factory.

A spokesman for the Teamsters' union (AFL) said the firm agreed to Stumpo's demand for a wage increase from $1 to $1.40 an hour.

UN Members Considering Slave Probe

Russians Bar Investigators

LAKE SUCESS, N. Y. —(UP)— A United Nations inquiry into forced labor as it allegedly exists in Russia seemed assured today as the economic and social council prepared to vote on a United States resolution which would direct the International Labor organization to make such a study.

The ILO investigation would be based on documented accounts of slave labor in Russia presented the council yesterday by Miss Tony Sender, representing the American Federation of Labor.

But the Soviet Union served notice that an UN, or ILO, or Human Rights Investigation commission would never be allowed inside Russia.

This means any UN action will probably be limited to indirect charges that Russia maintains a vast slave labor system, which the U. S. estimates has placed 8,000,000 to 14,000,000 persons in bondage, and a formal request by the council that the ILO and Human Rights commission inquire as far as possible into stories of persons who claim to have been inmates of Russian labor camps but who have since fled Russia.

Assistant U. S. Secretary of State Willard Throp first asked for the inquiry Monday, thereby launching the fiercest western attack on Russia's alleged forced labor system ever made in the UN.

The AFL followed up yesterday with a lengthy list of depositions from persons who claimed to have been inmates of Russian labor camps.

Their stories described vividly the brutality, suffering, death and despair in labor camps located mainly in the Ural mountains and north of the Arctic circle.

Great Britain's Christopher Mayhew said: Soviet slave labor camps rival those of nazi Germany, whose methods the Russians "have taken over and improved on."

Utah's Capital Isolated

Roaring Winds Block Traffic

(By United Press)

High winds swept over Utah and northern Nevada today, setting off ground blizzards that blocked highways and railroads and completely isolated Salt Lake City.

In Nevada, where the legislature appropriated another $25,000 for emergency measures to save livestock, ranchers in the Ely-Caliente area described their plight as "worse than ever."

Stiff 50-mile-an-hour gales redrifted the snow across roadways in Utah as fast as snow plows cleared them. All transcontinental buses were held in Salt Lake City.

FEAR CONVOY TRAPPED

Nevada officials expressed fears for a motorized convoy that left Thousand Springs Monday night and was still unreported at its destination, Wells, more than 26 hours later.

The convoy consisted of a rotary plow, a highway crew, a bus, mail truck and several automobiles. There were no stopping places along the 27-mile route over Highway 93 and authorities believed the vehicles were caught in the deep snowdrifts.

The Southern Pacific railroad's main line through eastern Nevada was shut tight by the drifting snow. Railroad officials hoped to move their eastbound streamliner City of San Francisco out over the adjacent Western Pacific railroad tracks.

The City of San Francisco became stuck in a snowdrift near Alazon, Nev., yesterday morning and derailed a car in trying to fight clear. The train had to return to Wells in sections.

A Union Pacific railroad snow plow bogged down while trying to open the line from Salt Lake City to Provo, Utah. A rescue party guided the crew to safety but the plow was abandoned until warmer weather melts the drifts.

2,000 Flee Lava Threat

MANILA — (INS) — Two thousand residents of the town of Barrios in Batangas province in the Philippines were disclosed today to have fled their homes in fear that Taal volcano might erupt.

Reports reaching Manila said that sulphur fumes accompanied by intense heat have belched from the crater during the past week and frightened the inhabitants into flight.

Authorities said, however, there is no immediate danger of eruption.

The volcano's last eruption was in 1912, when 1,000 persons were killed by the molten lava.

'Dollar Day' Back In City

"Dollar Day" will be back in Mansfield tomorrow for the first time since before the war. Forty-six merchants are participating in the old-fashioned sale event which will see some items marked down to $1 from as much as $10.

The weatherman has promised to cooperate with clear skies and crisp, cold air.

Merchants pointed out that "it has been a long time since you could buy anything except postage stamps" for a dollar, in setting up the community-wide sale.

3 Escape From Flaming Wreckage

BERLIN, — (INS) — Three crewmen were hospitalized today with injuries suffered in fighting their way out of the flaming wreckage of their crashed U. S. airlift C-54.

The four-engined plane was enroute to Berlin with a full load of coal when it lost two engines near Celle airfield, 23 miles northeast of Hanover in the British zone of Germany.

FIREMEN SEARCH FOR BODY—Fire Chief L. J. Steele, center, and Firemen Charles Hunt, on knees at left, and Chester Ramsey search for the remains of infant Dennis Lee Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jackson, whose house was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. Charred bones found by the firemen are on the newspaper to the rear of Chief Steele.

Was It Legal?

City Checks Fire Station Gas Bill

The city today was investigating the possibility that it had been billed illegally by the Ohio Fuel Gas company for gas used at No. 5 fire station since the building opened several months ago.

The city has paid two bills totalling $103 for gas used at the station, although the gas company's franchise specifically says that the company "shall furnish natural gas, free of cost, in sufficient quantities for heating . . . the city building and fire stations . . ."

Among legal questions which the city is checking, is whether the franchise itself is still in effect.

The Ohio Fuel Gas company, as successor to the Logan Natural Gas company and the Mansfield Gaslight company, holds the franchises of the two companies.

Under the terms of the 1911 franchise granted to the Mansfield Gaslight company, free heat for the fire stations must be furnished.

However, the franchise specifically states that it shall run for 25 years after passage, or, until 1936.

A legal decision handed down by an Ohio court, however, declares that "the franchise under which a gas company furnishes gas . . . becomes, on its expiration date an indeterminate franchise . . ."

An indeterminate franchise is one that remains in effect as long as it is agreeable to both parties and until, upon disagreement, a new one is negotiated.

This opinion, handed down several years ago in the case of Newcomerstown vs. The Gas company, has not been reversed or modified by subsequent rulings on the question, City Solicitor, C. J. Kalbfleisch said today after a preliminary survey of the matter.

Another legal question being studied is whether the words ". . . fire stations . . ." in the franchise meant all fire stations in use at that time (there were four) or means all fire stations, no matter how many more are constructed in the future.

A preliminary survey of the franchise and of subsequent rate making ordinance revealed that in each rate ordinance, council specifically included a section to the effect that nothing in the rate ordinance could be constructed to relieve the Ohio Fuel Gas company from its obligation to supply free gas for heating the city building and fire stations.

Although the city has paid the bills, Mayor Roy W. Vaughn said he has asked City Solicitor Kalbfleisch for a legal opinion on these questions.

Violence Breaks Out

Philly Motorists Get 'Roughed Up'

PHILADELPHIA — (INS) — Scattered violence broke out today in the sixth day of the transportation strike which has stopped practically every means of public transportation in Philadelphia.

With the nation's third largest city slowed to a walk at a cost of millions of dollars daily, police reported that roving squads of men were trying to stop what little transportation there is.

According to authorities these squads roughed up motorists whom they accused of carrying paid passengers.

Negotiations between the CIO Transport Workers union and the Philadelphia Transportation company continued with both sides still far apart on wage issues. Conferences were to be resumed today.

Not a trolley, bus or subway train stirred on PTC's 1500-mile network which normally carries 3,200,000 persons daily.

And there were no taxicabs to take care of stranded travelers, including plane passengers at the airport, or to rush emergency patients to hospitals.

KILLED IN ACCIDENT

LIMA — (AP) — A truck and an automobile collided on Route 25 south of here this morning, killing the driver of the car, Harvey A. Wingler, 40, of Dayton, the state highway patrol reported.

Lauds Christian Unity

Pope Appeals for End to Hate, Discord

VATICAN CITY —(INS)— Pope Pius XII appealed today for an end to "hates and discord" which split humanity.

The Pontiff made his statement during an audience with foreign diplomats who protested the trial and imprisonment of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty.

The holy father replied to a message of consolation over the Mindszenty case, which Colombian Ambassador Carlos Arango Velez read on behalf of the assembled envoys to the Vatican.

The Pontiff, deeply moved by this mass expression of Christian unity in the face of communism, stated:

"With all ardor, our desire (is for) the hour when nations will clasp hands and cooperate together for the restoration of humanity, presently split by hates and discord."

The entire corps of diplomats to the Holy See—except those of four Soviet satellite nations, Yugoslavia, Hungary, Czechoslovakia and Romania —attend the solemn audience in the Vatican's impressive Consfstory hall.

The holy father again voiced his "profound sorrow" over the fate of the Roman Catholic Primate, who was sentenced to life in prison by Hungary's communist government.

The audience—believed to be unprecedented in recent Vatican history—will be followed on Sunday by another demonstration on behalf of the Hungarian primate.

A gigantic Roman Catholic rally will be held in St. Peter's Square, where the Pontiff himself will speak.

Child Carried From Flaming 4-Room Home

A six-month-old child was burned to death and his four-year-old sick brother was rescued from the flames yesterday afternoon when fire destroyed their home in Garden Acres northeast of the city.

Dennis Lee Jackson perished in the fire. His brother, Roy Dale, was carried to safety by a neighbor, Russell Hedrick, who made three trips into the burning frame structure on Bon Air avenue.

Three neighbors held the mother, Mrs. Roy Jackson, to prevent her from rushing into the fire to rescue the baby.

Remains of the infant's body were found early today by firemen in the ashes of the house. All that remained of the tiny body was a litile heap of bones and ashes carried on a paper by Fire Chief L. J. Steele.

The infant lost his life shortly after 2:30 p. m. yesterday in a fire of unknown origin which started while his mother was at a neighbor's calling a doctor for her sick son. When told that smoke was coming from her home, the mother ran toward the flames, screaming: "My God, my house, my baby!"

The father was at work at the Westinghouse plant.

Meanwhile, Hedrick, another neighbor, made three trips into the smoke-filled house before he located the sick four-year-old boy. Carrying the child to safety, Hedrick returned to the home again but was unsuccessful in finding the baby and was forced back when the attic roof caved in, making an inferno of the first floor.

Hedrick said he first noticed the flames licking the roof and believed the fire started in the attic. The Jackson home, a four-room structure, was covered with asphalt shingles.

CALLS FIREMEN

While Hedrick attempted to save the children, his wife called No. 4 station firemen. Fire Chief Steele, attending a meeting at the Barnes Manufacturing company at the time, was notified by Central station men and hurried to the scene.

Witnesses at the fire said No. 2 station firemen used all the water out of their engine's tank a few seconds after they arrived and that a bucket brigade was formed by neighbors who aided firemen in saving the surrounding homes.

The Jackson home, is outside the city limits in Madison township. There are no fire hydrants in the area.

Firemen said today that the next-door home of Herman Reamsnider was blackened by the smoke and flames from the Jackson home, 18 feet away.

The infant's body was removed to the Byerly funeral home in Lucas pending funeral arrangements.

Area Roads Inundated

Two State Routes Covered By Water

Recent heavy rains in Richland county led to water flooding three county roads, it was reported today by the State Highway department.

Two of the roads were impassable while the third maintained traffic.

State Route 545 between Morrow county and Mansfield and State Route 62 in Holmes county west of Killbuck were reported impassable yesterday by the department. Water also covered Bowman road at Black Fork last night but travel was not halted.

Dry and sunny conditions are to prevail over most of Ohio today with an increase in cloudiness expected tomorrow. Little change in temperature is likely. The temperature at noon was 33 degrees.

High and low temperatures in Mansfield for the 24 hour period ending at 8 a. m. today were 60 degrees yesterday afternoon and 24 degrees at 7 a. m. today.

Rainfall in the same 24 hour period was recorded at .56 of an inch at the Municipal airport.

U. S. Finances Research On 'Space Ships'

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Government scientists are working on a "space ship" which would flash through the stratosphere at nearly 10,000 miles an hour.

While bare hints of such an "earth satellite vehicle program" have appeared before, the first scant details have just been disclosed in a chart issued by the Curtiss Wright corporation, longtime builder of military planes and engines.

The chart shows that secret government research is being conducted on both the 10,000 m.p.h. satellite and a 3,000-4,000 m.p.h rocket plane. Also under the secret classification is a guided ram-jet missible able to speed above 2,000 m.p.h. No other details were given.

Scientists have speculated on shooting a rocket beyond the pull of the earth's gravity, where it could circle like a miniature moon.

Admits Killing Wife With Axe

WARREN — (INS) — Steve Babchak, 75, confessed today to Warren police the early-morning bludgeon-slaying of his wife, Katherine, 66.

Police said Babchak, a farmer, waited for his wife to return from a meeting he had asked her not to attend and then beat her three times over the head with the blunt end of a short-handled axe early today.

Charles Ferguson, a roomer in the home, located not far from Warren, called a physician who in turn called police. Babchak was found in the kitchen, where his wife's body was lying on the floor.

Find Smallpox Case

WEIRTON, W. Va.—(INS)—Company physicians at a Weirton, W. Va., tin mill today had vaccinated 1700 employes for smallpox. A worker was diagnosed as having the disease last week.

Labor Fight Shaping Up

SPRINGFIELD — (INS) — Layoffs of approximately 1,300 assembly line workers at Springfield's International Harvester plant headed today for an open controversy between labor and management.

While the plant charges the workers with a deliberate slowdown, union officials claim that the workers were laid off because the company seeks to cut wages.

L. E. Drum, manager of the plant, announced that the men were laid off because of what he called "a material shortage caused by a deliberate work slowdown."

The third layoff in three working days, observers believe the controversy centers about four pieceworkers and the number of spot welds required on a radiator core.

Reds Predict Swift Verdict

LONDON — (INS) — The government-controlled Bulgarian radio has predicted that a "speedy, severe verdict" will be returned against 15 Evangelical ministers accused of espionage.

A Sofia broadcast, quoting the pro-communist government newspaper, last night said:

"The trial of Mindszenty and the indictment against the pastors leads to the same common source—Wall street."

Red Conspiracy In the U. S. A.

Chambers' Past History Traced By Investigator

By ROBERT E. STRIPLING
(Edited by Bob Considine)

Whittaker Chambers, in his first of eight appearances before the House un-American activities committee, corroborated certain elements of Elizabeth Bentley's own sensational charges, despite the fact that the Justice department had assured the committee that no one could back up the Vassar graduate's story.

He, too, named Asst. Secretary of Treasury Harry Dexter White, Victor Perlo, John Abt and one or two others, and added details unknown or unspoken by Miss Bentley.

In the process, he told the committee and the world more about his own life and his association in Washington with what he called an "elite group, an outstanding group, which it was believed would rise to positions—as, indeed, some of them did: notably White and Hiss—in the government, and their position in the government would be of very much more service to the communist party . . ."

18th article in a series.

Chambers left the party briefly in 1929 when, as he put it, Stalin ruled out the "possibility of open argument between two groups of communists." Before that time, he asserted, there had been a "kind of democracy" within the communist framework.

But he retruned in the early 1930's. By 1932 he was editor of the New Masses. During that same year he was ordered into the communist underground by Max Bedacht, a member of the central committee of the party. There was, of course, no appeal to Bedacht's command.

Sometime in 1937, two years before the signing of the Hitler-Stalin pact, he became frightened and yearned for greater security for himself, his wife and their baby. He had been using a variety of aliases in his work with the spy ring in Washington, including the name Carl. But now he wanted a positive identity.

So under the name of J. Vivian Chambers and with the aid, he states, of George Silverman and Irving Kaplan, later named by Elizabeth Bentley as part of her wartime espionage ring, he secured a job with the blessings and apparently the contrivance of the party.

He worked for several months in a government research bureau, collecting his communist salary on the side, but early in 1938 he quit both the job and the party. He gave the party no warning, but just disappeared.

RETIRES TO FARM

He retired to the seclusion of his Maryland farm, slept mainly through the days and sat up at nights with a gun ready, determined to fight for his life if necessary. He made no friends among neighboring farmers. Later that year, pinched for funds, he applied for a job at Time and got it, though he gave the personnel department an account of his past activities. He was assigned to book and movie-reviewing.

Forty-eight hours after the signing of the Hitler-Stalin pact Chambers sought out anti-communist writer Isaac Don Levine, now editor of Plain Talk. His purpose was two-fold: to inquire into the market for anti communist articles. (He had approached Levine on that matter earlier) and to enlist Levine's aid in contacting the proper authorities in Washington—to lay before them all he knew of the communist conspiracy and its workings within the government.

Levine went to Washington in the hope of seeing President Roosevelt, but got only as far as the late Marvin McIntyre, one of the President's executive secretaries. McIntyre heard the story briefly and informed him that the President was too busy to hear them. He turned him over to Asst. Secretary of State A. A. Berle.

Berle invited Chambers to dinner near the end of August, 1939. Nine years later, testifying before the committee, Berle related the events of that evening as best he remembered them.

He said the Chambers that night named Alger Hiss, Donald Hiss (now a partner in Secretary of State Dean Acheson's law firm), Nathan Witt and Lee Pressman as a "group of sympathizers who might be of use (to the communist Party) at some later date."

Chambers did not name them as communists to him, Berle testified, but rather as lobbyists for Russia. But Berle was concerned enough to make inquiries.

"I checked on the two Hiss boys," he told the committee. "Specifically, I checked with Dean Acheson, and later I checked when Acheson became the assistant secretary of state and Alger Hiss became his executive assistant...Acheson said that he had known the family and these two boys from childhood and he could vouch for them absolutely.

I once asked Chambers why he did not continue his anti-communist crusade at that time and release the "pumpkin papers" he concealed so long. He replied that he did not want to "hurt people...destroy human beings" and risk his own neck, especially when it became apparent that nothing would come of his visit to Washington.

The F. B. I. called on him twice after the murder of Gen. Walter Krivitsky, who had broken with the party and, with Levine's aid, had written a number of articles for the Saturday Evening Post. But the government men were not interested in what he had to say about the Washington spy ring. In fact, no one was until the House committee drew from him, slowly but surely, a story which probably still could be embellished.

(TOMORROW: Alger Hiss requests a hearing, and Nathan Gregory Silvermaster proves a very uncooperative witness.)

Charley Stine:

Latest Defense Is 1-1-1-2

He won't recommend it, he doesn't even like it himself, but Sparta basketball coach Wesley Boals devised a brand new defense last week which pulled a badly-needed game out of the fire.

The weird connection was a 1-1-1-2 zone which saved a game which would probably have ended with the score 9-0 or 9-2 in favor of visiting Iberia.

Iberia, a decided underdog, got hot at the beginning of the game and ran up a 9-0 lead then decided to stall. Not just a passing game but an absolute stall in which two players stood far out in the middle and just held on the ball. Forwards and center on the offense never moved but stood lackadaisically, motionless.

STINE

With the possibility that his team might never get the ball and save for the half-time tip-off, Boals dreamed up his zone in which he had a defense man playing zone the full length of the narrow Sparta court. Sparta moved to 10-4 at the quarter and took the lead 13-12 at half-time.

The same type thing continued in the second half even though Iberia trailed and eventually lost 22-18 while still attempting to freeze the ball.

Fans, according to Boals, at first booed, then became amused and finally very interested in the battle of wits and patience.

Some 800 people paid to see an old-timers game in Galion the other night in which players up to 60 years old took part. . . the high school team won by a 40-18 score. . . Desmond Donnenwirth, the Plymouth high scorer, will not go onto the basketball floor without a tiny skull luck charm which he wears around his neck. One night he discovered he had forgotten it after donning his uniform, but put trousers and coat on over the top and ran home after it.

Tygers Run Home Court Skein to 19

Mansfield Senior high school ran its basketball winning streak to seven in a row last night by plastering the Lorain Steelers, 68 to 49, in the Tyger lair.

The Bengals pounded the nets for 48 points in the second half to run their home court win skein to 19 straight. Only one more home game remains before tourney time as Senior high entertains Canton McKinley Feb. 25. The Tygers play at Massillon Friday night.

Although their over-all court play was of the sloppy variety, Senior high more than made up for it in accuracy. Coach Vern Hoffman's lads exhibited their best shot work of the season, making 24 of 53 attempts from the court and 20 of 27 from the foul line. Senior high made 16 of 28 shots in the last half.

NEW POINT HIGH

The 68 points broke the previous seasonal high of 67 compiled just last Saturday at Norwalk and the 25 tallies in the fourth heat was also tops for the campaign. But Lorain shaded that figure with 26 in the fourth heat, 16 of them in the loose last three minutes.

Four players hit the double-digit mark for the Bengals but scoring laurels fell to Roland Horn, the sucker playing Lorain forward. He had 20 markers while Jimmy Anderson paced the Tygers with 18. Ed Demyan and Paul Ferguson had 11 each while Norb Shibinski came in with 10.

Running up 11 straight points at the outset, the Bengals led all the way. Lorain did not score until 7:13 of the first stanza. The score at the intermission points was 11 to 3, 21 to 9, and 43 to 23.

At one stage of the third quarter, Mansfield led 37 to 13 but then eased up on the defensive. Until that time, the Bengals forced the Lorain players to take wild, long shots and not many of them swished through the goal.

When the gun cracked, Mansfield was in the van 67-49 but Ken McCally was fouled on the last play and made good the free throw as the fans streamed on the floor.

Hoffman experimented during most of the last half and his defensive ace, Ferguson, set out the closing minutes when Lorain was at its best. Horn had 10 of his points in the fourth quarter.

John Rybarczyk and Mitroff, of the invaders, were the only two players to foul out.

Lorain's crack reserve team edged the Baby Bengals in the preliminary, 45 to 44. The game was close all of the way and packed many more thrills than the varsity encounter. It was only the third loss of the season for the Tygers against 13 victories.

The score was tied at the half, 22-22, and Mansfield led 36-31 as the final period opened. The Tyger sophs made 14 of 22 free throws and Lorain, nine of 19.

Friendly House Fisticuff Show Is Scheduled Feb. 28

Mansfield's better amateur boxers will get a chance to step into fast competition in the boxing card planned for Monday, Feb. 28, by F-H Athletic Director Mike Wentz.

Wentz plans to match several of the champions of the 1949 Friendly House tournament against Golden Gloves fighters from Cleveland. One Golden Gloves champion, welterweight Leonard Dozier, has already agreed to go against Marion's Ray Penny, who won the local welter title.

The bout, which will headline a nine-fight card, may be extended to five rounds. Friendly House bouts have, in the past, been limited to three rounds.

Five Cleveland boys in all will appear on the card.

National Cage Loop Finishes Sked Tonight

Three games will comprise the last full session of the National Basketball league tonight at Senior high school gym.

Frankie Mitsch's Corner store will be out to clinch the second half championship when it opposes AVC in the final game of the night at 9 p.m.

The Independents can hand Mitsch's a clear deed to the title in the first game, however, if they can upset the Salesmen, only team with a change to tie the leaders.

Home Materials and Four Square Gospel meet in tonight's second game at 8 p.m. while the Salesmen and Au Construction close out the season tomorrow night at John Simpson.

Just Like Old Man River, Joe Louis To Keep Fighting

CHICAGO — (UP) — Heavyweight champion Joe Louis said today that he hasn't decided when he will quit defending his crown.

Louis leaves for Miami today, and a spokesman of the Brown Bomber said he would fight "a local boy" in an exhibition bout at Montego Bay, Jamaica, Saturday.

The champion will box in Kingston, Jamaica, Monday, and will appear in three more bouts in the West Indies "at times and places yet to be determined," the spokesman said.

"If I did hang up my gloves as champion this year," Louis said, "I'd still travel around the rest of the year and next year doing exhibitions. I don't know about 1951 yet."

Louis said he wouldn't "decide anything about defending my title until after the Ezzard Charles-Joe Maxim fight at Cincinnati Feb 28."

Veeck Is Hurt About 'Kicks'

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Bill Veeck, Cleveland Indians' president said yesterday he was surprised and hurt about complaints the Indians' rental contract for municipal stadium was unfair.

"I read in Milwaukee and Chicago that I had been unfair in my dealings with the city," Veeck said. "The whole thing surprises me. We are just tenants in the stadium. The city must have though it was a good contract or it never would have been approved."

Previously, acting Mayor Lee C. Howley had criticized the contract after viewing rental statistics prepared by stadium commissioner Paul J. Hurd. The report said the Indians had paid $152,359—about six cents a customer—for 77 home games last year.

Appleseed, Simpson 5's Go Thursday

Another session in Mansfield's biggest inter-city sports rivalry is set to take place tomorrow night when the John Simpson and Johnny Appleseed junior high school basketball teams meet on the Senior high court.

For Simpson, the long series has been pretty much of a rout, the Bulldogs having won 13 of the 14 previous skirmishes. Yet Appleseed often has entered the game as favorite and will do such again tomorrow.

WIN TWICE AS MANY

The Pioneers have won twice as many games as they have lost this year, boasting on 8-4 record. Simpson, in the throes of one of its poorest seasons, has won four games while losing seven.

Yet Coach Bob Kennedy has designed a ball-control passing game for the Bulldogs which has given many a recent opponent trouble. Three of their victories have come in the last five games. Most impressive was a 42-14 conquest of Madison's fine big reserve team. Early in the season the little Rams had beaten them 31-29.

LITTLE TO CHOOSE

Appleseed took the Madison reserves, but not nearly so strongly, 36-30. Against other common foes, there is little to choose between the two. Simpson lost to Shelby reserves, Appleseed split even. Both have beaten Union twice, both have failed to beat the Ashland reserves. Ontario has beaten Simpson once, and split with Appleseed.

Appleseed also went into last year's game a favorite but came out on the short end. The Pioneers had won 10 and lost three against Simpson's 9-5 but Simpson won, 42-41 in an overtime thriller.

Geiger's Increases Transportation Lead

The Transportation league bowling race blew wide open last night as Geiger Distributing swept three games from Schenk's while second place Schmid's Tire stumbled three times over Martin Steel.

Four games now separate the two teams whereas Geiger previously had led by one game.

Hugo Brannon, Teamsters, had the runner-up score, a 571 count while Adam Karbula, Commercial Motor, scattered the sticks for 557. Tony Augustine, Commercial had 546. Bob Forsythe Mansfield Upholstering 536, and Harry Koozer, Schenk's, 530.

★

Just missing the honor roll was Henry Carmel, the anchor man of the Ritz Nite club quintet, in the Richland C league. He hit 198-202-193—593.

C. Ropp, Colby and Earick, was second with 211-191-128—530.

Others: Charlie Brauchler, Weaver's Supply, 522; Lou Faiello, Ritz, 522; P. Nollert, Ritz, 515; B. Littler, Culp Jewelers, 505, and D. Krout, Colby and Earick, 504.

Ritz led the teams with 2520.

★

★

Mansfield Tire keglers were paced by J. Schmidt, who put together games of 185, 193, and 196 for a 579 series. Jim Dunn counted 555, Tom Tipul, 549; Barney Campbell, 546; and Ray Shively, 544.

★

C. Beal paced Westinghouse C leaguers with a 583 pin count. P. Brown rolled 565, I. Foust, 547, Nick Komienovich, 544, and Lou Tridico, 565.

★

The Tom Kats had things all to themselves among the Westinghouse girls as they posted the four top scores. Sophie Metz had 435, Gene Chronister, 421, Ruth Metzger, 407, and Lucille Stark, 406.

Hockey Teams Battling Again

STOCKHOLM — (UP) — The International Ice Hockey Federation, still bearing the scars of a bitter Olympic games dispute, faced more trouble today in the temper-torn world's amateur championship tournament.

One Canadian player Jim Russel was banned from the remainder of the tournament for slugging yesterday and the entire American team was roundly booed for "rough play."

The Canadians lost to Czechoslovakia, 3 to 2, and the U.S. lost to Switzerland, 5 to 4, in the games. It was the first defeat of the tournament for both teams.

Ray Robinson's Held to Draw

BUFFALO, N. Y., — (UP) — Ray (Sugar) Robinson, the outsized king of the westerweights, wasn't sure today about his plans to campaign in the middleweight division.

Robinson, weighing a hefty 153½ pounds, was held to a draw by Henry Brimm, a local product, in a 10-round non-title bout last night at Memorial Auditorium. It was the second draw decision of Robinson's career — he won all but two of his 93 previous fights — and it certainly must be regarded as one of the top upsets of the season.

Big Summer Fight Sked Planned

NEW YORK —(AP)— The fight game, frisky from a new shot in the arm, is heading into one of its most ambitious spring and summer schedules in years.

At least five world championships are slated to be put up for grabs between now and the August dog days with Joe Louis' one-last-time heavyweight title defense heading the bill.

Other champions crowding into the picture are middleweight Marcel Cerdan of France, welterweight Ray Robinson of New York, lightweight Ike Williams of Trenton, N. J., and featherweight Willie Pep of Hartford, Conn.

Robinson's foe for his first title defense since last June was plotted yesterday when Williams and Cuba's intriguing Kid Gavilan were signed for an over-the-weight bout at Madison Square Garden March 18.

The winner is to be recognized in New York as the leading 147-pound contender. Gavilan won a split decision from Williams last Jan. 28 in a bloody, hammer-and-tongs slugfest.

The active Williams, besides shooting for a crack at the welter title, also has agreed to defend his own crown April 21 at Los Angeles against Enrique Bolanos of Mexico City.

Cerdan is scheduled to give Tony Zale a chance to win back the middleweight championship in June under the auspices of the tournament of champions.

It's freely accepted among the fight faithful now that Joe Louis didn't mean "positively" when he retired after the second Jersey Joe Walcott scrap last year and he will put his crown on the line at least one more time.

This would be an outdoor attraction in June against either Lee Savold of Paterson, N. J., or Ezzard Charles, the vicious sniper from Cincinnati.

Just this week Joe told Savold he'd give him a week to decide to meet Charles in an elimination bout to determine the logical contender.

Fans who saw Willie Pep win back his featherweight crown from Sandy Saddler last week in the rock-sock blood letting of the garden are demanding a return showing. This was called one of the greatest fights ever staged in the historic arena.

Pocketbook's The Thing In Service Clash

WEST POINT, N.Y. — (UP) — Any city can play host to the Army-Navy football game as long as its pocketbook is big enough, the Army's graduate manager of athletics said today.

But, he added, only Philadelphia has been able to handle the massive promotion in recent years.

The graduate manager, Lt. Col. Orrin Krueger, was replying to a statement that New Orleans could have staged the 1949 service classic but turned it down because it would have lost $100,000 even with 70,000 seats sold at $20 each.

"We have certain stipulations," Krueger said, "and any city that meets tham can stage the Army-Navy game. However, they are pretty tough to meet.

"First of all, we consider the game is for the students so the transportation of the entire cadet and midshipman corps must be paid.

"Then, since football pays for all the other athletic programs at both institutions, we must have a guarantee.

"So far, only Philadelphia—because it is close to both West Point and Annapolis, and because it has the second largest college football stadium in the country—has been able to meet the stipulations, financially speaking."

Whitfield Rejoins OSU Track Team

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Mal Whitfield, Olympic 800-meter champion who quit the Ohio State track team last Jan. 25 to concentrate on his studies, rejoined the squad today.

Coach Larry Snyder said Whitfield would compete as a member of the Bucks' mile relay team against Indiana at Bloomington Saturday. Whitfield said he "had a change of heart" and wanted to run again.

Madison Rams Back on Win Wagon, 55-47

Home Finale Breaks Long Loss Streak

By CHARLEY STINE

Madison's off-and-on Rams were "on" last night.

Playing their last home game of the season, the Rams broke a four-game losing streak with a fine display of both offensive and defensive basketball to subdue invading Willard, 55-47.

Madison used some fancy passwork and trick shooting, but most important of all, the Rams played the backboards with abandon to cut down the effectiveness of big Jim Nowakowski, Willard center.

DUNKS 24 POINTS

The six-foot-seven-inch giant dunked 24 points to lead both teams but on the defensive board he was given a hard way to go. Joe Distl and Ray "Dutch" Bader managed to stay between him and the bucket most of the game, and in so doing collected themselves 19 and 16 points.

Ed Chelski, the Rams' leading scorer over the season, did an about-face and turned playmaker while putting in 14 tallies.

It was the eighth victory against nine defeats for the Rams and leaves them with an opportunity to end their season on the right side of the ledger. Two games remain, at Loudonville Friday, and at Galion a week later.

THREATENS IN THIRD

Although Willard threatened strongly in the third quarter, it worked out that Madison had sewed up the game much earlier. After a bit of see-saw play which found Madison leading 9-7, the Rams suddenly caught fire and ran the count to 21-7 before Willard could again dent the hoop. Willard moved to within ten points at 23-13 and then Madison was off again to a 31-17 half-time lead.

The third quarter was as much a one-man show as a basketball game could possibly be. Nowakowski played exactly as before but suddenly began to hit.

15 IN ONE HEAT

He rang the bell for 15 points in the period and had he been able to keep it up would have beaten the Rams with ease. Several of his shots were pivots which the ordinary sized player could only watch and then go for the rebound.

In the fourth quarter, Madison speeded the play up, however, and pressed the Willard guards so tightly they were seldom able to get the ball in. The Rams increased a five-point lead they held at the beginning of the period to ten within a few minutes.

DIFFERENT STORY

The reserve game was a different story as the favored Madison team fell, 39-26. The first half was a listless affair as Willard led by a weird 8-7 score at the intermission.

Kenny Woerth, the Rams' usually reliable center, was held without a goal and made only one free throw.

Class A Basketball Teams Not Up to Par This Year

By HAROLD LISK

COLUMBUS—(INS)—The more than 1200 high school basketball teams in the state today were either on, or preparing to get on the long-long trail winding toward Columbus and the state basketball championships the last week end in March.

The more than one thousand Class B schools, for the most part, are engaging in county tourney play this week. Those not eliminated will garner sectional and district tourney berths two weeks from now.

WIND 'EM UP

The Class A sophisticates, meanwhile, are winding up regular season play in preparation for sectionals and districts. The "A" schools, with enrollments of more than 150 boys, don't have to participate at county level tourneys.

A quick survey of the schoolboy cage picture over the state leaves only one impression. "Things aren't what they used to was."

There seems to be no outstanding record in Class A play and the bigger schools all have defeats marring their records, even the defending champion Findlay squad. However, up to this week, the champs had lost only one game.

TOP CONTEST

Down in the southwestern section of the state, Hamilton seems to rank as the outstanding Class A team, but a traditional game with Middletown tomorrow night will prove whether this is true. The Big Blue of Hamilton has lost only one game in 15 starts and that to a Portsmouth squad the Blue defeated last week, 49 to 38.

For the first time in several years, Stark county seems to have no outstanding candidate for the state cage title. Toledo Central Catholic has the best record in that lake city while Youngstown Chaney seems to be the best bet in northeastern Ohio.

F-H Plans Set For Volleyball And Basketball

Plans for two foul shooting contests, a junior basketball tournament, and a basketball carnival were announced today by Friendly House athletic director Mike Wentz.

Foul shooting in both senior and junior divisions will start things off the week of March 1. The contest will run every night of the week.

JUNIOR TOURNEY

Annual junior basketball tournament has been set up for March 10, 11, and 12. Boys 15 years and under may participate and trophies will be awarded to the top three teams.

Ending basketball for the season at the Friendly House is a basketball carnival set for Monday March 14. Volleyball for both boys and girls in the Northern grade school leagues will start March 21.

Entry blanks for the junior age tournament are now available.

Ashland Cagers Play 2 On Road

ASHLAND — The Ashland college cagers make two road trips this week in hopes of breaking away from a current five game losing skein that has seen the Eagles drop their last four contests by six or less points apiece.

Thursday eveing, the locals travel to Columbus for their only meeting this season with Capital university and go to Ada to play the Polar Bears of Ohio Northern, Saturday night.

Greenwich School Asks For Hearing

NORWALK — (AP) — The board of education at nearby Greenwich has asked the Ohio High School Athletic association to hold a hearing on the suspension of the Greenwich high school basketball from further competition this season.

The team was suspended because Coach Raymond Low called it off the floor during a game with Wakeman Feb. 4.

"I'd rather resign as coach, if necessary, to let the boys enter the approaching Huron county Class B tournament," Low said.

He claimed he asked Official Harry Shade of Norwalk to call an official time out when one of his forwards received a bloody nose. Instead the official, who had called one technical foul on Greenwich for excessive time outs, called another because Low stepped into the playing court, the coach said. So, with four minutes of play left, he took his team off the floor.

2 Teams Out In Crawford County Meet

BUCYRUS — Mt. Zion and Lykens held the dubious honor of being the first teams eliminated from play in the Crawford county basketball tournament as they fell in opening games last night.

New Washington edged Mt. Zion 42-39 in the tournament's opening game while Tiro followed with a 47-40 conquest of Lykens.

Paul Butt of Tiro took individual scoring honors for the night with 16 points. Franklin Hedges of Lykens followed with 15.

No games are scheduled for tonight but the eight remaining teams will open fire again Thursday. Sulphur Springs will meet Whetstone at 7:30 p.m. and county champion Leesville will follow in a game with North Robinson.

Saturday's games will pair New Washington with Holmes Liberty and Tiro with Chatfield.

Wagner Inks 35th Buc Contract

NEW YORK — (UP) — The horny hand scratched a bold signature across the dotted line, and it was official—Honus Wagner started his 35th season with the Pittsburgh Pirates today.

Old Honus, who will celebrate his 75th birthday on the 24th of this month, almost wound up without a contract this season. When the Pirate front office sent out its batch, someone inadvertently left his name off the list.

When Pittsburgh general manager Roy Haney learned about it, he just laughed and said, "that's all right. Honus is one of the family. We just don't think of him as needing a contract."

But the deliberate dutchman, one of the greatest shortstops of all time, got his pact anyway yesterday. And he signed it.

The salary terms were not revealed, of course. But you can be sure that Wagner got a raise over the $35 a month he collected when he first broke into the majors 38 years ago.

This is Wagner's 17th year as a Pirate coach, but he will not attend spring training. He said a recent influenza siege prevents the travel.

The club also announced that outfielder Tom Saffell returned his contract, leaving five players still unsigned. Saffell played for Indianapolis last year and hit .299 in 149 games.

Meanwhile, Branch Rickey roped in three more Dodgers without an audible murmur about salary.

Pitchers Ervin Palica and Eddie Chandler and outfielder Edwin (Duck) Snider all were charmed by the master's tune in Los Angeles. Palica won six, lost six and saw relief duty in 31 games as a rookie last season. Chandler was called up from Fort Worth of the Texas league after the 1948 season.

LOT OF TRIPS

Snider started last season with the Dodgers, was later sent to Montreal where he hit .327, and then was recalled by Brooklyn. His average was .244 for the National league season, but that included a fast finish. He hit .308 in his last 17 games

The Yankees received signed contracts from pitcher Frank Hiller and rookie catcher Henry Foiles The Phils signed pitcher Monk Meyer and the Braves got back pacts from Tommy Holmes and Clint Conatser. Both Braves received salary hikes.

Olympics Realize Sizeable Profit

LONDON — (AP) — The 1948 Olympic games were a financial as well as an artistic success according to a preliminary financial statement from Lord Burghley's Olympic organizing committee.

A profit of $119,400 was realized from the games in which 59 nations were represented the statement revealed.

Gross receipts, primarily derived from 1,247,283 spectators, were $2,399,400. Expenses were $2,280,000.

New London 5 Ends Season

NEW LONDON — New London high's regular cage season will come to a close Saturday night when the 'Cats will go to Willard to clash with the Crimson Flashes.

This game is being booked as "the battle of the giants," featuring John Jetter, 'Cat 6 ft -6 in. center ,and Jim Nowakowski, 6 ft.-6 in. Willard center. Nowakowski is the leading Northern Ohio A league scorer.

The New London Junior high "kittens" will play host to North Fairfield Junior high 'Papooses' at 4 p. m. Friday, Feb. 25.

OPS Plant Addition Completed

Huge Project Boosts Area Power Supply

A $10,000,000 addition to the Ohio Public Service company's plant near Lorain which will directly benefit the Mansfield area will go into operation Thursday.

Power generated by the new addition will be distributed primarily in Lorain county, particularly to the National Tube company. However, company engineers said some of the power will be transmitted to other expanding areas such as Richland, Ashland, Huron, Sandusky and Ottawa counties.

Joy A. Herbert, Mansfield division OPS manager, said the unit's capacity exceeds the maximum required in the Mansfield area.

The addition houses a new generating unit capable of producing an additional 65,000 kilowatts. The Mansfield area peak load is 40,000 kilowatts while the average ranges from 37,500 to 38,000 kilowatts, Herbert said.

R. E. Burger, company president, said the addition is part of the company's five-year $50,000,000 construction program. Under construction in the same program is a 100,000-kilowatt unit at the R. E. Burger station on the Ohio river, scheduled for completion early next year.

Herbert and H. D. Crawford, production superintendent for the company here, will go to Lorain for the opening of the new addition.

Scouts Hold Family Party

Scout Troop 6 and Explorer Post 6 will hold a joint family and charter presentation ceremonies at the North Lake park pavilion today at 6:30 p. m.

Besides the annual covered-dish dinner, Scoutmasters Paul Snyder, of Troop 6, and M. L. Erich, of Post 6, have arranged for the showing of a Scouting movie from National Scout headquarters entitled "The Scout Trail to Citizenship".

Awards will be made to the "best-all-around-Scout" of the two units, other awards for activities during the past year will be given, and several tenderfoot Scouts will be inducted into the troop.

New Equipment Speeds Laundry Job

Children's Home Wash Day Modernized

By NITA BRANSON

Thirty pairs of boys' trousers, all ironed neatly, hung on a rack in the laundry at the Richland County Children's Home.

This was part of the hundreds of pounds of washing that the day before had been fed into the huge maws of the two new washers, which since January have made the home laundry "self-supporting."

The washers are a part of the new laundry equipment purchased at a total cost of $4,800.

On another rack four plaid shirts hung, expertly ironed, and on the ironing board a fifth was being made ready for wear.

The trousers and shirts and 19 pairs of little panties and innumberable other personal and household items are a one-day's wash at the institution.

Mrs. Florence Carrick, in charge of the laundry said 95 pounds of clothes can be fed into the two big washers at one time. A year ago the laundry at the home was sent out and often times, in order to keep within the budget, small slips and dresses were worn past their soiled stage. But not anymore.

Mrs. Laura Reece, home matron, said panties and slips for the little girls are changed every day. The older girls, those who wear rayon undies, wash their own.

In addition to the pounds of personal wash, there are dozens of sheets for the 60 beds-48 for the children and 12 for the staff.

TOWEL A DAY

Every day each child in the home gets a clean hand towel, and washrag and a clean bath towel each time a bath is taken. For the smallest youngsters that means everyday and for the older ones, several times a week.

"The laundry is a money saver", Mrs. Reece said. "Things that we formerly had to send to the cleaners can now be washed in lukewarm water in our own laundry. They are things like blankets and the light tan jackets which the boys wear."

The original laundry at the home burned about 10 years ago, George Reece, superintendent, recalled and from that time until the first of this year, most of the laundry had been sent out.

"The laundry bills were pretty big," Mrs. Reece said.

The huge hot water tank at the home heats 210 gallons of water an hour. Each washer swallows between 40 and 55 pounds every times its big front is open to receive garments. The new drier can take up to 95 pounds of clean clothes. The drier is gas heated although driven by electricity.

In addition to the new drier, the old extractor was reconverted to become electric driven also. It will take up to 95 pounds of garments.

Series of Meetings Booked For Area Farm Residents

A number of meetings and training courses for farmers and farm residents were announced today by County Agent C. N. McGrew.

The annual meeting of the Cleveland branch of the Producers Livestock Co-Operative association will be held Thursday at 10:30 a. m. at the high school in Smithville. During 1948, 587 farmers in Richland county marketed livestock through the producers' association.

Both members and patrons of the association are invited to attend, McGrew said.

Speakers will include George Thomson, publicity director for the association, and C. K. Whistler, livestock marketing director of the Indiana Farm Bureau.

Two short courses for men interested in becoming milk testing supervisors and artificial breeding technicians have been scheduled at Ohio State university.

The courses, to be given at the university in Columbus from March 24 to April 23, will be full-time-day courses.

The annual winter Turkey Round-up sponsored by the Ohio Turkey association and the Agricultural Extension Service will be held at the Poultry building of Ohio State university next Tuesday.

McGrew said the session will start at 9:45 a. m. and a copy of the program is available at his office in the courthouse.

Backers of Fair Employment Bills State Case Before Hearing

2 Measures Presented To Assembly

FEPC Opponents Appear Tonight

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS—(AP)—A plea to rid employment of discrimination for the social and economic betterment of Ohio backed up two legislative bills today.

A score of witnesses voiced their sentiments at a "shirt sleeve" hearing by the House Labor committee last night. They testified for legislation to create a Fair Employment Practices commission in Ohio.

The commission would have power to penalize employers and labor unions for discrimination based on race, color, creed, national origin or ancestry.

An overflow crowd jammed the third-floor statehouse hearing room.

Opponents of the proposal testify tonight.

Two bills are under consideration by the 15-member committee. One would set up a three-member commission paid annual salaries.

The other would create a five-member group paid while in session.

The proposed laws would make it illegal for employers to refuse to hire or fire anyone because of discrimination. They could not question applicants, keep records or publish help wanted advertisements involving race, color, creed, national origin or ancestry.

Labor unions could not limit membership for those reasons. Penalties for violations ranged to $1,000 fines, a year in jail, or both. Appeals from commission decisions could be taken to court.

Witnesses for FEPC included Lockwood Thompson, Cleveland attorney and an Ohio State university trustee. He is chairman of the Ohio Committee for FEPC Legislation.

Others were Chester Gray of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment compensation, Theodore Berry, Cincinnati attorney; the Rev. Paul Sharp, Columbus Evangelical pastor; the Rev. Father Augustine Winkler of the Columbus Catholic diocese; Rabbi Barnett R. Brickner of Cleveland; Jacob Clayman, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio CIO council; Phil Hannah, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio Federation of Labor, and Mrs. Noah Miller, Akron, of the council of Jewish women. Several others were heard.

Bill Would Limit Party Line Phones

Measure Aimed At Improved Service

A bill limiting to six the number of subscribers on a party line is being studied by the state legislature, the Associated Press reported today.

The measure is specifically designed to aid rural home users who claim their service is so poor that their homes might burn down before they could call firemen.

Two instances of inability of persons attempting to report a fire to reach the fire department have been reported in Mansfield in recent months.

Firemen were minutes late in getting to a fire that destroyed a house on the Maxwalton farms, southeast of Mansfield, because the person calling could not get a line due to two talkative women who wouldn't hang up.

A similar incident occurred in the city.

The new bill states that more than six subscribers on a telephone line "shall be deemed prima facie evidence of inadequate service."

The bill also would require phone companies to extend lines in their areas within 90 days after receiving written applications from prospective subscribers.

Another provision, aimed at improving the present service, would make it mandatory for the public utilities commission to order the telephone company to rehabilitate its plant and equipment to furnish adequate service.

School Unit In Plymouth Offers Pact

Then Suggests New Position Be Sought

PLYMOUTH — Harmony keynoted last night's special meeting of the school faculty with the Plymouth local Board of Education in the school building here. Differences were discussed and corrected at the meeting presided over by Boyd Robinson, Richland county school superintendent.

The board accepted the teachers' recommendation the contract of P. I. Van Brunt, superintendent here for five years, be extended after its expiration date of March 1. Mrs. Mabel W. Lanius, high school principal, doubted if Van Brunt would remain following last week's board action.

At that time the board suggested he seek another position with its recommendation as to his administrative ability. His efficiency in running the school, hiring and directing a good faculty and giving full support to the faculty were cited.

The teachers were unanimous in their support for Van Brunt and offered personal testimonials on his administrative ability. The board felt he is the type of administrator in demand in larger towns.

Modest Buying Results In Slight Stock Mart Gains

NEW YORK—(AP)—Modest buying gave the stock market a lift today.

A handful of stocks—notably the steel group—refused to join the trend but gains of fractions to more than a point were well distributed.

Turnover remained closed to yesterday's rate, which was the smallest in months.

American Telephone rose more than one point in advance of the meeting of the board at which the traditional $2.25 per share dividend on the capital stock was voted.

Stephens Wins Tax Case In Ohio Supreme Court

George W. Stephens, former president of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company and now chairman of the company's board, was victor today in a State Supreme court reversal of a tax ruling which grew out of a complaint that Stephens was a "dealer in intangibles."

Stephens, who in 1944 made gifts of securities to his family which he pooled for investments in securities handled by him, was assessed more than $1,800 as a "dealer".

The high court, however, held today that the keeping of records of a family trust by one member of a family did not make such a person a dealer. Stephens' case was appealed before the Supreme Court by Mansfield attorney, C. H. Henkel.

Dale Rose, of Campbell and Rose, public accountants, who handled the computations on the Stephens case termed the victory as "blazing a new trail in taxation."

Rose said that if Stephens had lost the case, many more Ohioans would have been liable for similar proceedings.

Rose said that Stephens was assessed $211.61 on 1946 taxes and $1,672.96 on 1947 taxes. and that the assessment provided an approximate $2,000 a year additional on Stephens' taxes as long as he lived.

Also reversed by the court was a case against the Bond Hill-Roselawn Hebrew school in Cincinnati. The court held that the school was not subject to taxation merely because it furnished living quarters on the property for a caretaker.

Why not get all this in YOUR new car?

Owners of low-built Hudsons have it!

Owners of New Hudsons are seeing for themselves that the lower a car can be built, the more graceful its lines can be made, the better it will ride, the more surely it will handle, and the safer it will be!

But roominess is only one of the wonderful advantages that go with the automobile that is so far ahead it's a protected investment in motor car value.

Here are more:

Authentic beauty—the "step down" principle is so basically right it frees designers of the need for makeshift styling, enables Hudson to achieve pleasing proportions, symmetric, free-flowing lines.

A hug-the-road ride, and a smooth, steady way of going, because Hudson has the lowest center of gravity in any American stock car!

Performance? You bet! Hudson's all-new, high-compression Super-Six engine—or the masterful Super-Eight, get every chance to perform at their brilliant best, because this car is so low-built, so streamlined!

A new measure of safety, because you ride completely encircled by the sturdy, box-section steel girders of Hudson's Monobilt body-and-frame.*

Backers of Fair Employment Bills State Case Before Hearing

2 Measures Presented To Assembly

FEPC Opponents Appear Tonight

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS—(AP)—A plea to rid employment of discrimination for the social and economic betterment of Ohio backed up two legislative bills today.

A score of witnesses voiced their sentiments at a "shirt sleeve" hearing by the House Labor committee last night. They testified for legislation to create a Fair Employment Practices commission in Ohio.

The commission would have power to penalize employers and labor unions for discrimination based on race, color, creed, national origin or ancestry.

An overflow crowd jammed the third-floor statehouse hearing room.

Opponents of the proposal testify tonight.

Two bills are under consideration by the 15-member committee. One would set up a three-member commission paid annual salaries.

The other would create a five-member group paid while in session.

The proposed laws would make it illegal for employers to refuse to hire or fire anyone because of discrimination. They could not question applicants, keep records or publish help wanted advertisements involving race, color, creed, national origin or ancestry.

Labor unions could not limit membership for those reasons. Penalties for violations ranged to $1,000 fines, a year in jail, or both. Appeals from commission decisions could be taken to court.

Witnesses for FEPC included Lockwood Thompson, Cleveland attorney and an Ohio State university trustee. He is chairman of the Ohio Committee for FEPC Legislation.

Others were Chester Gray of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment compensation, Theodore Berry, Cincinnati attorney; the Rev. Paul Sharp, Columbus Evangelical pastor; the Rev. Father Augustine Winkler of the Columbus Catholic diocese; Rabbi Barnett R. Brickner of Cleveland; Jacob Clayman, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio CIO council; Phil Hannah, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio Federation of Labor, and Mrs. Noah Miller, Akron, of the council of Jewish women. Several others were heard.

Bill Would Limit Party Line Phones

Measure Aimed At Improved Service

A bill limiting to six the number of subscribers on a party line is being studied by the state legislature, the Associated Press reported today.

The measure is specifically designed to aid rural home users who claim their service is so poor that their homes might burn down before they could call firemen.

Two instances of inability of persons attempting to report a fire to reach the fire department have been reported in Mansfield in recent months.

Firemen were minutes late in getting to a fire that destroyed a house on the Maxwalton farms, southeast of Mansfield, because the person calling could not get a line due to two talkative women who wouldn't hang up.

A similar incident occurred in the city.

The new bill states that more than six subscribers on a telephone line "shall be deemed prima facie evidence of inadequate service."

The bill also would require phone companies to extend lines in their areas within 90 days after receiving written applications from prospective subscribers.

Another provision, aimed at improving the present service, would make it mandatory for the public utilities commission to order the telephone company to rehabilitate its plant and equipment to furnish adequate service.

School Unit In Plymouth Offers Pact

Then Suggests New Position Be Sought

PLYMOUTH — Harmony keynoted last night's special meeting of the school faculty with the Plymouth local Board of Education in the school building here. Differences were discussed and corrected at the meeting presided over by Boyd Robinson, Richland county school superintendent.

The board accepted the teachers' recommendation the contract of P. I. Van Brunt, superintendent here for five years, be extended after its expiration date of March 1. Mrs. Mabel W. Lanius, high school principal, doubted if Van Brunt would remain following last week's board action.

At that time the board suggested he seek another position with its recommendation as to his administrative ability. His efficiency in running the school, hiring and directing a good faculty and giving full support to the faculty were cited.

The teachers were unanimous in their support for Van Brunt and offered personal testimonials on his administrative ability. The board felt he is the type of administrator in demand in larger towns.

Modest Buying Results In Slight Stock Mart Gains

NEW YORK—(AP)—Modest buying gave the stock market a lift today.

A handful of stocks—notably the steel group—refused to join the trend but gains of fractions to more than a point were well distributed.

Turnover remained closed to yesterday's rate, which was the smallest in months.

American Telephone rose more than one point in advance of the meeting of the board at which the traditional $2.25 per share dividend on the capital stock was voted.

Stephens Wins Tax Case In Ohio Supreme Court

George W. Stephens, former president of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company and now chairman of the company's board, was victor today in a State Supreme court reversal of a tax ruling which grew out of a complaint that Stephens was a "dealer in intangibles."

Stephens, who in 1944 made gifts of securities to his family which he pooled for investments in securities handled by him, was assessed more than $1,800 as a "dealer".

The high court, however, held today that the keeping of records of a family trust by one member of a family did not make such a person a dealer. Stephens' case was appealed before the Supreme Court by Mansfield attorney, C. H. Henkel.

Dale Rose, of Campbell and Rose, public accountants, who handled the computations on the Stephens case termed the victory as "blazing a new trail in taxation."

Rose said that if Stephens had lost the case, many more Ohioans would have been liable for similar proceedings.

Rose said that Stephens was assessed $211.61 on 1946 taxes and $1,672.96 on 1947 taxes, and that the assessment provided an approximate $2,000 a year additional on Stephens' taxes as long as he lived.

Also reversed by the court was a case against the Bond Hill-Roselawn Hebrew school in Cincinnati. The court held that the school was not subject to taxation merely because it furnished living quarters on the property for a caretaker.

That old saying, "Boys will be boys," is OK, if it is also remembered that they will later become men.

It was Thomas Paine who said: "Those who expect to reap the benefits of freedom must undergo the fatigues of supporting it."

Those new atomic bombs are said to be not only bigger, but cheaper—which is an economy note worth considering as a part of the deflationary trend.

Council Invites Traffic Suggestions

MEMBERS of city council are acting wisely in giving time for careful thought to all elements entering into the proposal to place one-way traffic restrictions on Main street and East and West Fourth streets, as proposed in an ordinance now under consideration.

These are two of the city's three main thoroughfares and their importance in providing access to the downtown business area is such as to argue strongly against confining them to one-way traffic.

Limiting parking to one side of the street would seem a logical step in relieving congestion during the hours of heavy traffic, rather than taking the drastic action of putting the one-way restriction into effect.

The whole problem reverts, however, to the lack of sufficient off-street parking space in downtown Mansfield, and this is a matter that needs more attention than it has yet been given by either city officials or civic organizations.

It is noted that council members invite expression of the views of interested persons on various phases of the proposed ordinance, which has been given its first reading, and as this is a matter of such widespread concern to the people of Mansfield and vicinity it may be hoped that full discussion will precede final action.

Ban On Colored Oleo Nearing End

UNLESS pressure from the dairy interests again blocks legislative action, the manufacture and sale of colored oleomargarine seems likely to be legalized in Ohio in the near future.

Final action on this subject has already been taken by the Michigan legislature, through action on an initiated petition in which signers demanded repeal of the 48-year-old law banning the sale of colored oleo.

It was by a 21-7 vote that the Michigan state senate passed the repeal bill, to become effective in 90 days after adjournment of the legislative session.

In Ohio the senate commerce and labor committee has recommended a similar initiated bill for passage, and favorable action is confidently anticipated, although such a bill was passed by the senate during the preceding general assembly but was killed in the lower house.

Repeal of discriminatory federal taxes on oleomargarines is also up before Congress, with indication of favorable action forthcoming during this session.

Freedom of Press Must Be Guarded

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS throughout the world is a concern of the International Congress of Liberal Newspaper Editors, which has just created an international committee to consult with and advise editors and newspapers on problems relating to freedom.

The task of such a group is delicate Freedom of the press cannot be imposed on a nation; it can only be created within the nation. It cannot be enforced from without, it must be defended from within. Responsible newspapers can and do watch unceasingly for things which endanger press freedom, but they can only resist and expose the dangers; the people must protect their free press if they want to keep it.

Even an organization of editors or newspapers can do little more than watch and advise. A newspaper which would remain free can only commit itself to sustain freedom, justice, and right, and to support all others who do likewise.

How Georgia Would Bar Voters

"HOW MANY members are there in the House of Representatives of the United States?" "Can you name any committee in the national House of which your congressman is a member?" "Does the Constitution prescribe the number of judges on the Supreme Court?"

These questions are four out of 50 from which Georgia registrars may select 20 to quiz prospective voters How many could you answer? If the answers fail to satisfy the registrar, the citizen is not permitted to vote Such are the provisions of a new bill, sponsored by Gov. Herman Talmadge, and expected to pass the Talmadge-controlled legislature.

The aim of this bill is ostensibly to disfranchise Negroes But depend upon it, any machine determined to perpetuate its power will not use the weapon of this bill against Negro voters alone. Anti-machine white voters can and will be deprived of the vote when the machine thinks it safe.

Average Life Span Increasing

WHATEVER they may say, women's lives seem to be getting easier At least they are living longer. The Federal Security Agency reports that the average length of life for women is now 66 9 years, whereas in 1933 it was only 59 2, a 13 per cent increase.

Men's lives are lengthening, too but not so much. In 1933 a man's life average was 57 5 years, now it is 63.3, a 10 per cent increase

One sign of the millennium would be to see passengers moving to the rear of cars and buses without being told.

One of the first things to do about children is to teach them not to play with fire.

Strive For 'Depression-Proof' Formula

PRESIDENT TRUMAN comes close to paraphrasing a famous remark of former President Hoover early in the great depression two decades ago. Inflation, the President seems to say, is just around the corner. He still wants stand-by powers for price control and rationing

His point of view is undoubtedly based on the reasoning of some of his economic advisers Behind their thinking there seems to be an assumption that a general decline is unlikely because there are what might be called "depression-proof" areas in our economy. One of these is the huge expenditure for armament Another is a high demand for food and clothing Another is European relief

The most curious of their ideas, however, is that because government spending is so great and because it comprises so large a part of the national income, the cost of government is part of our defense against deflation.

This needs some spelling out. It is a fact that federal expenditures for next year may run to about $42 billion, with two or three more for social security. State and local budgets look like $15 billion more.

If we add other potential costs, the figure for government may go $62 billion, which comes to a third of our possible national income

* * *

On Dangerous Ground.

TO SEE this as a defense against deflation, however, is to accept the thesis that we can spend ourselves into prosperity. But it is hard to accept that thesis, because that one-third of our income must be supported by taxes on the other two-thirds.

Surely, no one could claim that if we increased government costs indefinitely we would increase our national income indefinitely.

Ultimately, inflation would destroy all savings and taxes would crush all incentive. If this be the basis of government optimism, we shall have to look elsewhere for cheer.

It is possible but dangerous to argue about a "depression-proof" economy In the great depression, our national income fell from $80 billion in 1929 to $45 billion in 1933. This was a drop of about 44 per cent.

But the volume of goods and services fell only 25 per cent. The rest of the drop was due to price reductions There was thus a large "depression-proof" area, even in the great depression. But that hardly saved us from national disaster

It may be dangerous to speak of "depression-proof" areas, but it is reasonable to consider what might better be called protections against a recurrence of 1929-33.

One of these is agriculture, which despite current price declines, is still highly prosperous. Another is the relatively smaller burdens of debt. And it must be considered that expenditures for defense keep certain industries moving which were the hardest to revive 16 years ago.

But, as Senator George has pointed out, a further effort to raise taxes for government spending is deflationary and should be resisted by all who realize the danger of a rapid decline. The base of our Babylonian tower is the production and consumption of goods in private affairs The height of the tower can crumble the base

TODAY IN HISTORY

On February 16, 1862, the Confederates surrendered Fort Donelson, Tennessee The Confederate Army had 15,000 troops, as had the Union Army under General Grant. Grant took 13,000 prisoners

Dave Boone Says:

THAT TRIAL of eleven communists in a New York court has entered its fifth or sixth week and they're still arguing over the jury system They haven't got around to trying anybody yet. I wouldn't be surprised if the judge reached retirement age before the prisoners agreed to a trial in the American pattern

* * *

Over in Europe, 15 Protestant ministers are rushed to the dock with the usual announcement from the courts that they have signed complete confessions. That was routine. Over there, where the communists run the show, they have the confessions all prepared before they decide whom to arrest.

It would be big news if they tried anybody without a prefabricated, ready-to-wear confession.

But they fool few people. The world knows that the way of a priest, a minister of a rabbi is not the way of a traitor, a spy or a black marketeer, despite confessions hot off the quantity production line of persecutors of the church.

Frankly Speaking

Heart Campaign Week

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — The trouble with heart disease is doctors don't know what causes it.

Yet, it kills more people than any other ailment. Last year it killed 625,000 people. It will kill as many this year

In an effort to help find the cause, the American Heart association has opened a one-week campaign to raise $5,000,000 for 1949.

There are three main kinds of heart disease: the kind that comes from rheumatic fever; high blood pressure; and hardening of the arteries.

Right now about 7,000,000 people are walking around with some form of heart disease. Some know it. Some won't know it till they're taken to a hospital and checked over, or until they have an attack.

This will tell a little of the story behind the drive to raise the $5,000,000.

The American Heart association was founded in 1924 by a group of doctors. It was entirely a professional organization which distributed scientific information on the heart among doctors.

And it was supported by doctors But last year the association decided to widen its work by getting help from the public and doing more work in the heart field

* * *

How Money Is Used.

So last year it made its first campaign for public help and raised about $2,500,000. This year it wants double that sum.

The American Heart association, the parent body, has 40 local branches: In big cities, or state-wide, or even regionally, as in the case of the New England Heart association

All 40, and the parent body, are taking part in the campaign to raise funds. How will the money be spent? This way:

1. To support research. That is, giving money to centers, or in helping support doctors, doing research in the cause and treatment of heart disease.

2. In educating the public and doctors about heart disease by getting information to them

3. In helping get better treatment for heart cases all over the country, as in hospital equipment and room and other aids.

4. Helping out, perhaps, with higher pay for people handling heart cases, like nurses

Of the money contributed in the campaign, 70 per cent will go to the local branches and 30 per cent to the parent organization, the American Heart association.

The parent and the branches will use the money where it sees fit in the ways pointed out above.

How do you give money in the campaign? You can do it in one of two ways:

1. Send it to your local heart association. The full name of the local association will vary from city to city and state to state.

2. Or, send it directly to the American Heart Association, Box 500, New York, N. Y.

Whether the money goes to the local association or to the American Heart association in New York, people there said, it will be distributed finally as mentioned above. 70 per cent to the local branches, 30 per cent to the parent association.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Lady Senator Has Annoying Experience

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Being a lady senator isn't the easiest job in the world — as gracious Mrs. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine has found out. It has its embarrassing moments.

Mrs. Smith, however, is equal to almost any occasion, and recently wrote to Arizona's shy Senator Carl Hayden, requesting women's lavatory accommodations somewhere within easy range of the Senate. While there are facilities for 95 other senators, Mrs. Smith pointed out, there are none for the 96th—a lady.

Mrs. Smith also put in a plea for a green paint job in her suite of offices, rather than the standard, unfeminine cream color.

Upon receipt of the letter, Senator Hayden called the lady from Maine on the phone hemmed and hawed nervously.

"I took the matter up with Mrs. Caraway (the only other long-term lady senator and now retired)," he stammered "You know," she didn't get her private facilities until she became chairman of a committee"

The only accommodations available, Hayden explained, adjoined offices now held by senators with higher priority. Mrs. Smith didn't press this delicate issue, although some lady reporters are now goading her to do so.

Actually, Senator Smith is much more interested in getting her offices painted green Three other senators—Theodore Green of Rhode Island, Warren Magnuson of Washington and Milton Young of North Dakota — had green offices, she told Senator Hayden.

He pointed out, however, that only their private offices were painted green, not their complete suites. Mrs. Smith was entitled to a ration of green paint, he agreed, but only for her private office. She objected that this would be discriminating against her staff.

"Anyhow," she added, "Senator Green's offices are, too, painted green throughout"

At first Hayden denied this, but later discovered it was true

"Well," he explained, "Senator Green is an exception because his name is Green."

* * *

Compromise Victory.

MRS SMITH dug deeper into the case, and reported back that the color of Senator Green's offices had nothing to do with his name. He had inherited the offices, already painted green, from ex-Senator David Reed of Pennsylvania.

"But it would cost too much money to repaint your offices," Hayden protested gently. "We would have to put on two coats"

"I'll pay for the paint," offered Mrs Smith

"It's not only that," argued the rules chairman "The painters charge, too, you know"

"I'll pay for the painters, too," Mrs. Smith chirped. "I'll even bring in my own painters if you prefer."

The harassed senator from Arizona almost wept into the phone: "If we do that," he moaned, "then everybody else will want to do the same."

Worried over turning down a lady, Senator Hayden called back three times to explain his reasons for refusing her. Finally she compromised by having her private office painted green —upon the insistence of her staff, who agreed to leave their rooms a dull cream.

Note: Mrs. Smith has kept out of it, but there is also backstage debate over whether she is entitled to free beauty-parlor service — since male senators get free haircuts.

Helping Lobby.

READER'S DIGEST, which gets into more homes and schools than any other magazine, has now teamed up with the real estate lobby to fight rent controls

It seems hard to believe, but the February issue of the Digest contains a condensed version of an out-and-out propaganda pamphlet favoring the real estate lobby viewpoint.

Furthermore, publication in the Reader's Digest was significantly timed to coincide with rent-control hearings on Capitol Hill—although the real estate lobbyists have been passing out the pamphlet for several months

Called "No Vacancies," this amazing pamphlet doesn't even deal with rent control in the United States but in France, where conditions are altogether different The author, a French economist named Bertrand de Jouvenel, describes the festering slums and the acute housing shortage in France, then implies darkly that rent control is the cause of it all—rather than inflation.

Not only did Reader's Digest foist this propaganda upon its regular readers, but the editors actually tried to drum up more readers by bombarding newspaper offices and civic organizations with sales promotion urging them to send for reprints at cost

Without offering to present the other side of the case, the editors wrote: "'No Vacancies' describes the tragic effect of rent control upon French housing—and draws a moral which is particularly pertinent at this time in our own country.

"Because the Reader's Digest believes this article to be timely and important, reprints are being offered at cost to interested individuals and organizations If you feel that 'No Vacancies' should be seen by your friends and by leaders of thought in your community, you may obtain as many copies as you wish

"You may have other ideas for bringing the message of 'No Vacancies' to a still wider audience If so, we should be very glad to hear from you"

This was the way the Reader's Digest cooperated with a lobby which was publicly denounced by the President of the United States.

Learn About Jai-Alai

By INEZ ROBB

MIAMI BEACH—Lady Luck is the patron saint of this community and what she does to some of her followers shouldn't happen to a dog. Not even a dog running at the Kennel club, the Miami Beach Kennel club, the Biscayne Kennel club, the Hollywood Kennel club or the West Flagler dog track.

Miami is largely inhabited by persons who can't wait to be parted from their money Fortunately, they are seldom inconvenienced for long.

The opportunities for getting rid of astronomical quantities of folding money are almost limitless here, what with roulette, dice, dogs, horses, red heads and jai alai, to name only a few.

Jai-alai is a fast game, patterned on violence, ballet and one old cat It is played with a ball and a scimitar-shaped bat in a court or a diamond or a gridiron called a "fronton"

The game, originally played in the Basque Pyrenees, arrived in Miami years ago via Cuba. Some people can take jai-alai or leave it alone. But the true aficionado feels as deeply about it as a Brooklyn feels about dem bums.

* * *

Product of Brooklyn.

ODDLY enough, the sensation of the local jai alai season is a Latin from next-to-Manhattan. Brooklyn, which produced the first All-American bull fighter, Sidney Franklin, has done it again.

The borough across the bridge has given birth to the first All-American jail-alai player He is Martin Perfit, 21, a native Brooklyn product

Marty, the professional name under which he knocks himself out in the Biscayne fronton every night, turned pro about ten days ago

This Brooklyn Basque is regarded as something of a sensation in that he perfected the game in a few seasons. Jai alai aces usually begin training for the game in their play-pens

But Marty never saw a jai alai game until he deserted his native heath and dem bums in 1945 to enter the University of Miami About the time that Marty decided to give up the liberal arts for the fronton, the U S Army tapped him for a spell of service.

In 1946, Marty found himself stationed in Brussels, Belgium. Fortunately, sufficient Basques had migrated there to support a fronton. So it was in Belgium that the Brooklyn flash had his first lessons in this fast, highly skilled game

After his stint in the Army, Marty returned to Miami University. But the fronton won a clear cut decision over the liberal arts

Two weeks ago, Marty played so brilliantly in an amateur charity match here that he was signed up within 48 hours by Richard I. Berenson, jai-alai's Mike Jacobs, and turned into the pro ranks.

The Brooklyn boy hasn't run away with the pro racket yet But he is holding his own. He paid $50 in a quiniela recently, and that's good A "quiniela" is a form of pari-mutuel betting original to jai-alai, now recognized by the Florida racing commission and even extended to the dog tracks.

The bettor picks any two players—or dogs—in the same game or race, and picks them to finish one-two. Even if he picks the players or dogs in reverse order, the quiniela ticket still pays off

Jai-alai is a great convenience to the Miami gambler, as it is another method by which he can shed his money in rapid succession

Timely Editorial

Ban On Sound Trucks.

Although the nine justices had to write five different opinions to reach its 5-to-4 divided decision, the important thing is that the Supreme Court has now held that the cities of America can protect the ears of their citizens from the "aural aggressions implicit in the use of sound trucks."

The mental gymnastics by which the learned judges arrived at this decision may or may not have been required by the contrary opinion the court handed down in the celebrated Lockport, N. Y., case a year ago.

Having reached the wrong conclusion in one case, it had to find some justification for changing to the right one in the recent case which came up on appeal from Trenton, N. J. And, apparently, justices of the Supreme Court feel that it is beneath their dignity to base a legal ruling on simple common sense.—Toledo Blade.

Farmer's Diary

What Is Real Success?

By CALVIN A. BYERS

MOST farm magazines give credit to farmers who own huge ranches and plantations, producing quantities of meat, milk, or vegetable products Success means dollars worth of food produced The "Master Farmer" earns his title by superior production his premises reflect the quality and well-being which everyone admires and can understand.

I think of the farmer mentioned in this column some days ago, who had lived his whole life on 63 acres, reared six girls and two boys, all married, with fine families of their own.

He showed me his favorite open pollinated corn, the product of years of careful seed-saving. All his life he had paid taxes, supported his home community, and without a murmur because his place was small, nor had he tried to add his neighbors' farms to his own.

Perhaps in the eyes of the great Judge, the man's small success might rank along with the widow's mite, greater in real wealth than that of others with larger holdings.

Another thing—a man who really succeeds does not stand still. He is continually learning, experimenting, growing in knowledge and skill becoming more interesting in his own life and personality.

And a single acre of fertile land can produce a prodigious amount, if well managed not only in garden truck, fruit and flowers, but in health, recreation and knowledge.

One does not need to view all the stars of a single night to have a joyous understanding with them. There is joy in a quiet spring-fed meadow brook as well as in a broad rushing river. Why should men strive so mightily to own more of this earth than they need to yield an honest livelihood?

Why do we standardize success and make it wear a dollar sign? Mother Nature is wiser. She does not expect a squash vine to become an oak, nor is she disappointed so long as each plant produces according to its kind, whether squash or acorn.

I hope the American farmer may always dare to be himself. Farmers in United States have it very good. Perhaps they do not realize how far the influence of successful farmers may be felt.

Galion Sets Council Unit Conferences

Sewer Tax, Power Row Issues To Be Themes

GALION — Council last night scheduled two important meetings later in the week. On Thursday night preliminary steps for drafting a sewer tax ordinance will be taken and Mayor H. H. Hartmann has slated a power squabble conference Friday night.

Ordinances of nearby cities on sewer tax legislation will be compared Thursday. K. A. Poister, service-safety director, requested the meeting with the council sewer committee composed of W. H. Kunkel, John A. Anker and M. G. Thompson. Mayor Hartmann and City Solicitor George H. Davies also were bid to attend.

At Friday's electric power parley Hartmann says representatives of the Ohio Public Service company, the Galion Iron Works and Manufacturing company and Central Ohio Steel Products company will meet with the utility committee of council. It is composed of M. G. Thompson, W. H. Kunkel and Floyd Myers. Other council members are welcome to attend.

It has been indicated progress is being made toward an agreement to purchase power from a private utility to supplement power generated by the Galion municipal light and power plant.

Council heard Clerk James A. Nichols read a report of the city's bonded indebtedness as submitted by City Auditor Floyd Frye. It showed the bonded indebtedness reduced from $509,610, as of Dec. 31, 1947, to $479,355, but notes to extend $13,000 for the Grand street improvement boosted the outstanding bonded indebtedness to $492,355 as of Dec. 31, 1948.

GARDEN CLUB HEARS PROGRAM ON WORMS

"Pedigree Earthworm Culture" Topic of Program Given By Mrs. Larry O'Brien.

PEDIGREE Earthworm Culture" was the topic of the program given by Mrs. Larry O'Brien at the regular meeting of the Linnaeus Garden club Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Virgil Hartman, 611 Arlington avenue.

"Our soil is heavy clay," stated Mrs. O'Brien, "so we decided to build up the humus with pedigree earthworms. We bought 1,000 worms for $7.50 and raised them in tokay grape boxes in the basement at a temperature of 65°. The worms were fed ground potato peelings, grease and grapefruit rinds."

By spring the O'Briens had 60,000 worms, of these they saved 1,000 for future breeding. The rest were planted in trenches three feet apart, as a pedigree worm will not travel farther than that.

Mrs. O'Brien referred to the famous naturalist, Charles Darwin, who is credited with the first discovery of the use of worms for the soil. Samples of worms in various stages of growth were displayed by the speaker. There were eggs about to hatch, young worms and mature worms with eggs about to be fluffed off. Each mature worm lays an egg a week.

If you were in festive New Orleans at Mardi Gras time, you would surely be served a delectable fish dish well-known in that part of the country as Bouillabaisse. (B o o l a - b a y, as pronounced in Creole French).

Boston cooks, always anxious to devise delicious new dishes, have created their own version of bouillabaisse, using whatever varieties of fresh fish are available. Haddock, flounder and pollock make a mouth-watering combination. Actually, any fresh fish may be used. Perhaps you'll want to experiment like the fishermen of Marseiles.

Bouillabaisse Boston

- 3 lbs. fish (preferably 1 lb. of 3 different kinds) cooked and boned (haddock, cod, whiting, halibut, pollock, etc.)
- 1 medium carrot, sliced
- 2 medium onions, sliced
- 1 clove garlic
- 4 absp. margarine or shortening
- 1 cup tomatoes
- 1 bay leaf
- 2 cups fish stock or water
- ⅛ tsp. saffron (optional)
- 1 doz. raw oysters*, clams*, or scallops
- 1 cup cooked shelled shrimp or crab
- 2 tsp. salt
- ½ tsp. pepper
- 2 tbsp. lemon juice
- ¼ cup sherry (optional)

* Reserve liquor; use as part of fish stock.

Cook carrot, onion, and garlic together in fat until golden brown; remove garlic. Add fish, tomatoes, bay leaf, saffron, and stock. Cook over simmer heat 15 minutes. Remove bay leaf; add remaining ingredients, except sherry. Continue cooking 5 minutes. Add sherry; serve immediately. Serves 6 to 8.

LOSES 35 LBS. WITH THIS HOME RECIPE

Mrs. Frank Snyder, Millfield, Ohio writes, "I have lost 35 lbs. since taking Rennel Concentrate and I am so pleased with the results that I have recommended it to many of my friends. Rennel has also relieved me of that stuffed up feeling and I no longer feel all tired out. I feel better in every way and look younger."

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

They Never Heiled!

Ex-Nazis Rebuilding the Ruhr

By DANIEL DE LUCE

ESSEN, Germany —(AP)— The keenest production brains of the nazi Reich are rebuilding Germany west of the iron curtain.

In Europe's mightiest workshop—the Ruhr—Germans who know best how to dig coal and forge steel are in high authority.

Despite four years of allied occupation, thousands of top-flight managers and engineers, who heiled Hitler from choice or caution, are intensively at work.

They vehemently deny they ever dabbled in Fuehrer politics, except to carry a National Socialist party card. That is their story. The allies, who sponsored the denazification which judged them, are stuck with it—for good or ill.

The casual foreign visitor may carry away the impression that west Germany is chiefly inhabited by scrubby urchins begging allied chocolate, Bahnhof Fraulein exchanging love for foreign visas, and maimed veterans collecting cigarette butts from the gutter.

But here, in the Ruhr, is a different type of German. He is an executive, engineer, scientist or lawyer. In the aggregate, he is the management and technical brains behind what used to be the No. 1 heavy industries of Europe.

NONE WERE NAZIS!

The DKBL liaison officer who greets you has an engineering degree and long industrial experience. A nazi? His aristocratic, saber-scarred face winces. No, he says, he was never a believer in nazism. But he had to join the party in 1937 or lose his job.

Upstairs in a big conference room is jolly Heinrich Kost, general director of DKBL and principal owner of the Rheinpreussen coal mines.

He offers you a good cigar, mentions the excellent hunting that you're welcome to join on his country estate, and awaits the inevitable question: was he a member of the National Socialist party?

Kost's answer is authenticated by allied intelligence. He was arrested in 1934, he says, for having balked a nazi membership campaign among his workers. But after the party blood purge that year, he joined but stayed as inconspicuous as possible.

You ask the DKBL liaison officer how many important coal mine executives are now excluded from the industry because of their nazi affiliation. He says he can name only one.

In the American zone, 64,500 units of property were sequestered after the war from nazis and blacklistees. Fifty thousand have been turned back to denazified owners. More are in prospect.

In the British zone, which includes the Ruhr, nazi property owners have fared as well or better, although the largest steel and coal firms are in trusteeship.

CHANGING TIMES — Three little German girls skate down an Essen street lined with rubble left by Allied bombs. Essen is in the heart of the German Ruhr.

Production, ever more production, is the keynote of west German life today. The men who know how are enjoying power and prosperity.

Youthful Driver Put on Probation

Roger E. Black, 15, of 176 North Benton street, was placed on probation for two months yesterday in juvenile court after he confessed to driving without an operator's license.

The youth, who was apprehended by Mansfield police, was warned not to drive until he is old enough to obtain a driver's license.

Does Stomach Gas and Bloat Make You Feel Miserable?

If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in freeing your stomach from this nervous distress. It works this way:

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

DRUGGISTS. Chemists cannot make GEO-MINERAL. It comes from the earth—Nature's laboratory. Contains NO dope, NO alcohol, NO oil. ONLY Nature's minerals—the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments.

Wonder Minerals

FOR THOUSANDS of years sufferers, on advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to get cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Warm Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there regularly twice a year.

WE HAVE all heard of the miraculous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece, where, according to legend Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

IF YOU ARE a sufferer, and can not go to the mineral springs, try GEO-MINERAL which contains a blend of the same minerals that can be found at the world's best springs. The minerals in it may work miracles.

Amazing Results

WATCH your elimination from your bowels two or three days after you start using GEO-MINERAL. The waste, black as coal, will break away and you will SEE it! Also examine your urine. You may see impurities—poisonous waste—coming out of your kidneys, and feel the relief. Be sure to watch for all this to realize the priceless value of GEO-MINERAL.

GEO-MINERAL is not a physic, and does not interfere with the foods in the intestines. It gets down to the root, cleaning and purifying, throwing away poisons — gas, toxins and bloating. Not like physics, oils and cathartics do, but in a Natural, harmless, safe way.

100% Guaranteed!

WE URGE you to try GEO-MINERAL. Go to your drug store NOW and get one bottle. Use it seven days. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money in full.

TRY IT! It may be the remedy you NEED! . . . and making the best investment for your health. It may do wonders for you—make you feel, eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better.

CONSTIPATION is the cause of this atonic abnormal condition of this colon. IMPORTANT: Keep colon free from poisonous waste matter.

SPASTIC CONSTIPATION—Pinching down of the descending colon. This condition often caused by over use of harsh cathartics, physics.

STA-NEET is sweeping the country!

Millions sold last year!

The average family saves $50 to $100 a year on hair cuts with STA-NEET!

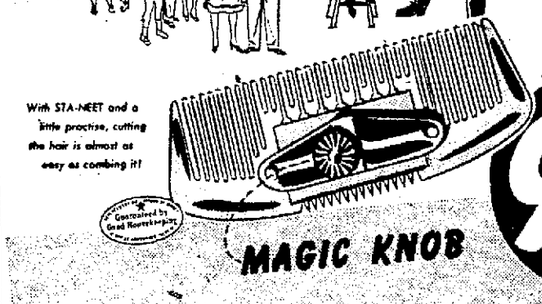
SAVE PIGGY BANK

Not since the first home permanent was introduced has any product swept the country with anything like the amazing success of Sta-Neet.

You've heard about it. You've read about it. If you haven't bought one, you're missing out on the biggest break that has come to the family budget since prices took to mountain climbing.

Figure it out for yourself. How much do you spend on hair cuts? How much does it cost your wife to keep her hair trimmed and thinned and shaped? How much for the children's hair cuts?

You can save all that by buying a 98c Sta-Neet . . . the little comb with sliding safety blade, regulated by a magic knob. A device so simple . . . so easy to use . . . that you can do a professional-looking job the first time you try it out, if you follow the simple illustrated directions.



With STA-NEET and a little practise, cutting the hair is almost as easy as combing it!

MAGIC KNOB

98c

STA-NEET stainless steel BLADES
give 20 to 30 hair cuts . . . 10 to 20 shaves!
5 FOR 49c
100% MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE

1. CUTTING HAIR

Use small teeth side with small teeth against head and large teeth ½ inch away from head. Simply stroke hair, as with a comb. To taper the hair, keep turning the Magic Knob to the right, little by little, as you stroke downward.

2. TRIMMING AROUND EARS

Adjust blade ⅛" inside small teeth. Stroke upward and forward. Then, adjust blade ⅛" beyond edge of small teeth and shave to desired distance from ears.

3. SHAVING neck, underarms, legs

Turn Magic Knob to right until blade edge is 1/16" beyond ends of small teeth and shave as with razor.

4. SHAPING and THINNING

For shaping . . . with blade close to ends of small teeth, cut strands on outside for curls to turn up, on under side for curls to turn under. For thinning . . . use large teeth side. Adjust blade to extreme left and, raising hair, stroke upward from under hair

4 SIMPLE RULES TO REMEMBER

1. The closer the blade is to outer end of small teeth, the shorter the hair is cut.
2. Always keep the Magic Knob turned away from the head.
3. Small teeth side cuts, trims, tapers and shaves. Use large teeth side for thinning.
4. Dampen hair for best results.

SHAPING

THINNING

This is the same Sta-Neet that beauty shops are using for cutting, thinning and shaping women's hair.

Movie Adventurer Has Advantage; Can Say 'Yes' In Ten Languages

SAM SPIEGEL is a man of ten tongues—nine living and one dead.

This enables him to say "yes" in nine more languages than the average Hollywood figure. It should be a positive guarantee of success in films.

But Spiegel likes to say "no." This, perhaps, explains why he is an "independent producer."

Spiegel, known professionally as S. P. Eagle, is an international cinema adventurer. At 46 he has written, directed or produced films in Germany, Austria, England, France, Mexico and the United States.

Viennese-born and educated, Spiegel is a man of many talents and tastes, including a well-trained palate for wine. He sometimes entertains friends by tasting and identifying a wide variety of wines while blindfolded.

"But to tell the vintage—ah, that is another matter," murmured the producer. "In Paris there are waiters who can taste two wines and tell you the year each was made."

Spiegel, a chunky, congenial man with a long sense of time and art, hopes to achieve this perfection, too. He keeps in training.

In the matter of languages, Spiegel knows his way around in English, German, French, Spanish, Polish, Russian, Czech, Italian and Palestinian Hebrew.

But Latin, the dead language, is his first love. And the tributes he pays it would bring tears of joy to many an American high school Latin teacher.

"For my study of old Latin I have been grateful all my life," said Spiegel. "It has an enormous discipline—a discipline that once you learn you can use afterward in anything.

"Today many film writers go off on a tangent. They lack the rigid discipline of thought that Latin teaches. I advice any young script writer to read the Gallic Wars of Caesar. Then he will know how to write with discipline."

But Spiegel thinks that, in other ways, Hollywood would do well to shuck off some of the discipline of the past.

★

He is in town now Hawking his latest production, "We Were Strangers," directed by young John Huston and partly filmed in Cuba. It deals with a revolution there.

"It is based on Thomas Jefferson's phrase that resistance to tyrants is obedience to God," said Spiegel, "and we hope it is a step away from the conventional pattern."

Spiegel thinks the answer to Hollywood's box office troubles is to avoid trite, hackneyed themes.

"The reason people over 30 go so seldom to the movies," he said, "is because we don't give them adult pictures.

"After a certain age people want a grain of thought with their entertainment. They don't like Betty Grable's legs or the boy-meets-girl theme all the time.

"When you go to see a picture today you usually know after the first reel exactly what is going to happen. That is strong."

But the film that Spiegel himself wants most to make, he said, is a love story—the immortal "Cyrano De. Bergerac."

"Only film can do it justice," he said. "And before I die I'll make it."

He would now except for a small matter—raising $3,500,000. Independent producers don't have that kind of change in their pockets.

Son of Virginia Slaves Rose To Become One of the Truly Greats

WILLIAM H. LEWIS, of Boston, was a Negro son of Virginia slaves who became one of our great citizens by force of character. A good body helped him along, to be sure. A puny young man could not have played football at Amherst and Harvard, as he did, being captain for a year at Amherst and for a day at Harvard, in the barbarian era when casualties ran so high that Columbia and other schools took up quoits and bean bag instead.

Lewis made every inch of the way the hard way and in football it was the harder because he played center at both schools. Center was then called center rush, for the open game had not been developed and the forward pass was not even a gleam in the eye of Jesse Harper, the coach who unveiled the Notre Dame passing combination of Rockne and Dorais at West Point in 1913.

Football was a game of strength and courage divided into 30-minute halves and a coach who took a man out for anything less than a broken leg humiliated him and made an enemy to be met behind the sign-board.

The tackles and guards and the center wore wide belts with handles on them which the back grabbed, to be pulled or towed through the mischief, and the newspaper artists depicted these giants with haystack haircuts sprouting through lattice-work head-guards.

★

HARVARD, Yale and Princeton were the Big Three of American football and the All-America selections by Walter Camp, which began after Lewis's playing days were over, were confined to those three until along toward 1910. Then Camp put Lewis on his theoretical all-time All-America out of respect for his play at Harvard after his Amherst career.

This young Negro not only made the Amherst "varsity," apparently in his freshman year, 1888, and played on through until he went to Harvard in 1892, but won prizes in oratory at Amherst and was football captain and class orator in his senior year.

The records are vague, but he is believed to have been captain of Harvard for one game against either Penn or Penn State. If so he was a Negro captain in the Ivy league a half century before Levi Jackson, now captain of Yale.

Lewis died exalted in the esteem of most of the Massachusetts bar. His funeral, from St. Cecilia's church, in Back Bay, was attended by men whose names are a roster of the leadership of our most cultured community.

It is not disparagement of Joe Louis, Bill Robinson and a number of other respected Negroes of the present to call attention to the dramatic magnitude of Lewis's success and his conquest of handicaps, including prejudice. Fine as they have been, he was greater, and he died comparatively unknown.

Paul Robeson has made his name detested by multitudes who hate the treachery of communism and yet, out of exaggerated fairness, continue to swamp him with money. If he were not a Negro he would be just another singer and one of a thousand resonant, grimacing hams.

If Joe Louis came from a cabin in a cotton field, William H. Lewis came from circumstances much worse. He was born in the worst turmoil of the reconstruction days if not during the war itself.

I write of Lewis not from the clips from the morgue but as one who had known and silently admired him since a first meeting in 1915. I have met many of the great men of my age and he was really one of them.

Crash Suit Litigation Continued

Judge Grants Defense Motion

A $1,338 accident suit was continued for reassignment late yesterday by Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch when Lydon H. Beam, attorney for the defendants, C. J. and Louis Stanchfield, of 293 Eights avenue, filed a motion asking that Earl E. Bates, of 494 Edgewood road, be made a party plaintiff in the suit.

Plaintiff in the present action is the State Automobile and Mutual Insurance company, which seeks the sum as having paid it in insurance to Bates, when his car was damaged in a collision with the Stanchfield's truck.

The accident occurred Sept. 12, 1947 on Lexington avenue near Mendota street. The hearing began yesterday morning.

Beam in his motion to the court, pointing out Bates in his testimony had said he was injured in the accident, said Bates was a party at interest in the case. The motion was sustained by Judge Kalbfleisch.

Previously, a motion by Beam for a directed verdict in favor of his clients was turned down by the court.

One juror was withdrawn from the case. Judge Kalbfleisch said that was part of the technical procedure involved in continuing the case and the other jurors would be recalled.

The suit will be reassigned after Bates files his pleadings in the case. The insurance company was represented by Attorneys Marriott and Freehafer.

C. of E. Picks Its Capital

LONDON — (UP) — The French city of Strasbourg on the upper Rhine river 250 miles east of Paris has been selected as the capital of the proposed Council of Europe, informed quarters said today.

Strasbourg was proposed by Great Britain and unanimously approved by the western union countries after initial French resistance was overcome. France was reported reluctant to put the council so near the German border.

The western union countries led by Britain and France, meanwhile, met again today to work out plans for the council's first preparatory conference.

Western union countries were reported encouraged by favorable responses that Ireland and Sweden gave to preliminary soundings. Both countries have announced they will participate in the council.

Up and Down the Street . . .

THEY'RE WALKING—

Courthouse employes and visitors there are beginning to get that "tired feeling" from walking up and downstairs. The electric motor in the elevator went P-f-f-f-t yesterday. Custodian Harold Snyder said this is the third time the motor has burned out. He said the motor would be taken to Cleveland for overhauling. That will mean about two more weeks of walking up and down stairs by courthouse workers and visitors.

HELD FOR NON-SUPPORT

John Crockrell, 33, of 175 East Second street, was arrested by police yesterday on a warrant from the Lawrence county sheriff charging non-support. Crockrell is being held in city jail pending his return to Lawrence county.

Unfit for Federal Prisoners

Improvement Plans Ignored

The Richland county jail, condemned by grand juries for the last 20 years, is not good enough for housing federal prisoners, the United States Bureau of Prisons in Washington said today in a report.

The bureau listed only 11 of the 97 county and city jails in Ohio as good enough for federal prisoners. The January grand jury called for extensive repairs to the jail and remodeling of the aged structure.

Commissioners in late 1947 asked Architect Charles Conklin to prepare plans and specifications for a new jail or for remodeling of the present structure. Conklin has had the plans prepared since last summer, but the commissioners have taken no action since.

The report said the best jail in the state is the Cincinnati city workhouse, which was given a rating of between 70 and 79 per cent—one of the highest in the country.

Other jails on the approved list are the Hamilton county jail in Cincinnati, the Cleveland House of Correction in Warrensville, the Cuyahoga county jail, the Columbus city jail, the Franklin, Lucas, Lorain, Mercer, Licking, and Clinton county jails.

On a restricted list are the Erie, Sandusky, Williams, Wood, Harrison, Hocking, Miami, Preble and Scioto county jails. The bureau will permit federal prisoners awaiting trial to be jailed in these institutions, but will not permit federal offenders to serve even minimum sentences in them.

Major reasons cited by the bureau for rejection or restriction of a jail are lack of trained personnel, low standards of cleanliness and sanitation, and poor quality, quantity and preparation of food.

Sportsmen To Meet

Members of the Ashland County Wildlife association will meet at the association refuge farm tomorrow at 8 p.m., according to club officials.

In addition to routine matters, members will discuss the League of Ohio Sportsmen convention which gets underway at Columbus Friday, and it is believed delegates will be selected from the association members.

Following the meeting Paul Donley will show movies on outdoors Canada.

Members of the group have invited all outdoor fans to attend the meeting.

The Ashland county sportsmen have a similar game refuge setup to that now being formulated by the Richland County Fish and Game Protective association.

The Ashland farm and meeting site are located near Mifflin.

The Prospect P—TA last night voted to purchase an illuminated chart for checking the vision of pupils at the school and song books for use by the school and P—TA.

Principal Hobart Robinson of the school told of the organization of the first P-TA at Prospect in 1912. Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Olinger, who were members of the first organization, were introduced.

Third grade pupils, under the supervision of Mrs. C. C. Secrist, presented a quiz program. Refreshments were served.
